WELCOME TO FENWAY PARK

The Boston Red Sox extend a cordial welcome to the baseball fans of New England and visitors to this area from other sections of the nation and the world.

Red Sox fans are registered in our book as among the most loyal and appreciative in the country. The comfort of these people always is a prime requisite with the Red Sox management in the continual upkeep and maintenance of Fenway Park as an outstanding sports stadium.

It is Red Sox policy to attempt at all times to reward the patronage and support of our fans with the best in baseball in every way.

THOMAS A. YAWKEY'S 28th YEAR

It was just before the start of spring training in 1933 that Thomas A. Yawkey became the owner of the Red Sox so that they are now in their 28th year under his ownership and presidency. This will be the second season under the guidance of Stanley R. "Bucky" Harris as General Manager. Mike Higgins returned to the helm as Red Sox manager on June 14 after having been away from that job since last July 3d, but he had been manager up to that date from the start of the 1955 season. Billy Herman and Sal Maglie are new members of the coaching staff this year.

The lower lefthand corner of the scoring block should be considered as home plate. Progress is counter-clockwise with progress to first base indicated in lower righthand corner, to second in upper righthand corner, to third in upper lefthand corner and to home in lower left. In example to left, batter reached first on an error by the second baseman, stole second, went third on a wild pitch and scored on a passed ball. It is convenient to encircle all runs as shown so that scoring plays may be seen at a glance.

FENWAY PARK

Constructed 1912

Rebuilt 1934

Seating Capacity 34,819

Distances to Fences

Left field.....	315 feet
Center field.....	390 feet
Center field corner.....	420 feet
Deep right field.....	380 feet
Right field	302 feet

Height of Fences

Left field wall.....	37 feet (Screen above wall 23 feet)
Center field wall.....	17 feet
Bull pens	5 feet
Right field	3-5 feet

The wall in left field is 315 feet from home plate at the foul line. The wall extends to dead centre field, at the flagpole, where it is 390 feet distant; it is 420 feet to the deep point in center field at the end of the Red Sox bull pen; 380 feet to the deep point in right field at the visitor's bull pen, and 302 feet down the right field foul line.

From the field to the top of the left field wall the vertical distance is 37 feet, and 60 feet to the top of the screen which rises from the top of the wall.

The wall fronting the center field bleachers is 17 feet above ground level.

The farthest point from home plate in the ball park is at the rear of the center field bleachers (the former clock position) which is 536 feet and 66 feet from the ground.

The fence in front of the bull pens and at the turn of the grandstand in right field varies from 5 feet, 4 inches to 3 feet, 6 inches.

Fenway Park is brilliantly illuminated for night games by 1120 lights of 1500 watts each on the seven light towers.

It is 90 feet between each base around the diamond, and the basepaths are three feet in width. From home plate to the pitcher's plate measures 60 feet, 6 inches. There are 127 feet, 3 3/8 inches between home and second base, and, of course, the same distance across the diamond from first base to third.
